

The Hirsch Millions.

Nothing Practical Yet Accomplished by Them.

(L. Zangwill in Household Words.)

The Jewish "rich as a Jew," is a cliché, for the vast majority of Jews of the world are not rich. They are poor, and every now and then a few Jews are so miserably rich that the world is made to take notice of them. The Jewish millionaire is a new thing, and the Jewish millionaire is a new thing. The Jewish millionaire is a new thing, and the Jewish millionaire is a new thing.

At this was the man in whom, late in the evening of his life, the Jewish millionaire of the world lay the foundation of the Jewish nation.

At Baron Hirsch's death, $10,000,000 was left to the Jewish nation, and the Jewish nation was the Jewish nation.

There was one great reason why he did not go to Palestine immediately, and that was because Baron Hirsch was already making colonies.

Baron Hirsch was already making colonies, and the Jewish nation was the Jewish nation.

WALKER'S STORE.

THE NEW HATS

Make Their First Appearance

Tomorrow, Tuesday and Wednesday.

A liberal, satisfying array that leaves out none of beauty's conjurings. And how generous is Queen Fashion only the show can tell you. No narrow mandate is to bind the season of 1902. The great divergence of shapes, their universality of becomingness, gives broadest play to individual taste. The keynote to style is only suitability from your own view point and the one problem to solve, "prettiness"—which of the many shall it be. "Oh," said an enthusiast, as the exhibit neared completion, "the hats of this season are sweet enough to eat, the dearest ever sent us." Indeed, so they are—beauty creations; the foaming folds of tulle intertwining ribbons, feathers, flowers and richest laces make of them marvels of loveliness. American made; Paris made. But you are bidden to the feast. Come. Seeing will satisfy.

MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 17, 18, 19.

Fashion's Favorite Costumes and Wraps.

Newly Shown Tomorrow, Tuesday, Wednesday.

Tailor-made and dressmaker made. Street gowns, visiting gowns, dinner gowns; all are here for parade in the Millinery Show. Not all of the new kinds have yet come to us, but many of the ultra-smart that will sufficiently illustrate fashion's dicta for the new season. And, oh, description of them. There's the despair of the advertiser. The dress artist has appropriated the ideals of him of the pencil so cleverly that now woman needs only to don the costume and step forth a veritable Gibson or Christy girl. Of course there are other charming styles. Soft, clinging materials are mostly used, to give the graceful drapery as much the vogue this season as ever. The sleeve difference, for dress and coat alike, is probably the most marked innovation this year. Jackets bear the Gibson touch and there is a newer, little dinner coat, La Pompadour and others, made of handsome silks, exquisitely trimmed. In the windows, along the aisles, you will find them on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

A Lace Curtain Show.

We know we have the choicest lace curtains that can be had and that the variety of new kinds is the most extensive ever shown in the city and prices—the smallest for quality. So, while in the store this week—mayhap to look at the new hats—it will not be amiss and likely prove most profitable should you take a peep at a display well worth while and full of suggestion for lace curtain adornment. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday.

Handsome lace panels for doors in Renaissance, Irish Point, Marie Antoinette and Arabian effect, 75c to $10.00 each.

Bonne Femme lace curtains, $1.00 to $20.00 each and other rich laces.

Irish Point, $2.50 upward.

Renaissance and Arabian upward from $5.00 a pair.

Buffed swisses, $1.35 and up; ruffled bobbinets begin at $1.50 a pair.

Nottingham in endless array, almost, from 50c a pair up.

Dainty curtain goods by the yard in nets, madras, Point d'Esprit, embroidered muslins, etc. Upward from 12 1/2c a yard.

New Ru's to Look At.

The choicest lot of Orientals has just been opened and early choosing is advisable for the most desirable will be soonest gone.

Women's $1.50 Kid Gloves—$1.15.

The splendid wearing, satisfaction giving Arabian mocha—somewhat heavier than suede, so right for early spring wear. Seams are half pique, two clasps. Black, reindeer, beaver colors only. Sizes 6 1/2 to 7 1/2. This week reduced from $1.50 to $1.15.

Lost Old Bull Violin Recovered.

Chicago Record.

Klein, had. The $250 violin stolen from Arthur Meckel, the boy violinist, was found on Saturday. The Bull. He gave it to Bruce Reed, his pupil and assistant, who in turn presented it to Meckel. The violin was found in 1891.

Exquisite Wash Fabrics.

Just as dainty as silk is the silkiness of this season's La Pompadour effects. The color blendings are a delight to the eye and makers are put to it to supply the demand coming in as the season advances.

Many wholesale houses are showing but three and four pieces, since reorders cannot be placed, mills having ceased to make them. We ordered early and so you have at least forty different selections. $1.65 to $3.00 a yard.

New dainties in figure designs came during the week.

Emigrants from Ireland, as pretty and fresh and fair as any that ever left the old sod—and they are not behind in origin—sail over there, by any means. Pieces are small. 25c a yard.

Sponges, Combs, Pencil Tablets.

Good sponges—those sold always at 15c, 20c and 25c each, Monday and the week—9c.

Pyraline dressing combs, 25c each regular—15c.

Pencil tablets, for school use, 85 sheets of paper in each and sold regularly at 5c, now two for—5c.

Pomero's mucilage and library paste, 10c bottle for—5c.

65c and 85c Cushion Tops—37c.

Just twenty-four in the lot; woven tapestry and tinted canvas with Indian heads, figure and football designs. Original price was 65c and 85c each, Monday and while they last—37c.

"Doris" in all the Freshness of the New Season.

The enthusiasm of our buyer—and some others who happened to be present at the opening—when the ten new and different styles of "Doris" for 1902 were fairly out of packing boxes, was indeed a justifiable pride. A good and perfect shoe for women at a little price.

The effort of years crowned with success. Ten styles—think of it. Handsome as many a $5.00 boot. In patent, vici kid, patent calf, patent enamel, velvet calf, vici kid, enamel kid and box calf. Shapes for "old ladies" comfort up to the most modish street and dress boots. Display near glove counter. Monday and the week. $3.50 any style.

Picture Frames, Lamp Shades.

Square cabinet size picture frames, gold plated and lacquered, dust proof. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, instead of 40c each—25c.

Crep Paper Candle Shades, green, pink and yellow, bell shape, trimmed with silk braid, Monday and the week, instead of 35c each—17c.

$16.50 to $20.00 Black Silk Petticoats—$12.75.

Made of the richest taffeta silks, with deep accordion flounce beautifully trimmed in heavy lace and tiny ribbon ruching and some other dressy fashions, but only one of each style. Handsome petticoats could no woman wish for. $16.50 and $20.00 black silk petticoats for—$12.75.

Corsets, Muslin Underwear.

The new lines of corsets are fast filling up the shelves. And one marvels at the many new beauties. Handsomely embroidered, finished with lace and ribbon and dainty girdles in different delicate shades, all too pretty to hide away as undergarments, almost. Corsets are fitted and altered, if need be, of course. Corset waists are now very nearly as much worn as corsets; beauties are here. Prices range 50c to $12.00.

Women's cambric gowns, V neck and sailor collar effects, nicely trimmed with fine embroidery or lace. Corsets are now very nearly as much worn as corsets; beauties are here. Prices range 50c to $12.00.

"Chesterfield" Our New Clothing for Men.

Look for the hall marks of finest custom-made in the "Chesterfield." All the little quirks and twists that go to make up the finely finished garment and which are known only to expert fingers, you'll find there. Every possible improvement in workmanship, every bit of style and perfection of cut that could be added above other makes of men's clothing "Chesterfield" has. Enough of the spring stock is now in place to show the coming smart fashions.

Men's Trouser Sale, Up to $5.00--$2.25.

There is plenty of good choosing yet. We told you last week the assortment reached considerably above one hundred pairs. Excellent trousers, all of them; fine black clay worsteds, serges and motormen's trousers; marked low at $3.00 to $5.00. Monday and until gone—$2.25.

Men's Hats to $4.00 for--$1.00.

A lot of men's stiff and soft shape hats, last season's to be sure, but very suitable for all that, to wear this spring. Nearly all are in brown color and originally they were $2.50 up to $4.00. Monday and while here, choice—$1.00.

A new lot of spring neckwear came during the week, batwing and four-in-hand shapes, made of handsome silks and equal in quality to 75c to be sold at—35c. Half hose in the new shades with pretty embroiderings, stripes and figures; fine cottons, perfectly woven. A very low price is—25c a pair.

Black Silk Dress Skirts Up to $35.00--$18.75.

Made of Foule, Up to $8.00--$4.95.

Black taffeta and Beau de Soie dress skirts in triple flounce effects, one, two or three ruffles and some richly lace trimmed with silk drop lining. Elegant looking, beautifully made. Just such skirts as will be presently wanted for calling when the bright weather causes the doffing of outer wraps. Only one of each style and $27.50 up to $35.00 skirts, Monday and the week—$18.75.

Splendid new dress skirts are these of foule cloth. The maker was in need of spot cash and so our buyer with several others of distant cities bargained for all he had at quite their own terms. Our portion of the buy numbers close onto two hundred. Foule cloth in black, tan, navy blue and brown, cut in the very newest skirt shapes with flare bottom or flare flounce with straps and bands of moire silk. Were intended to sell at $7.50 and $8.00 each, instead—$4.95.

You Didn't Expect to Get Embroideries Now at This Under-Pricing.

Three splendid lots of embroideries that contain every width, every kind of edge or insertion you will likely need for shirt waist, gingham dress and under garments. Nainsooks, Swiss and Hamburg in many of the newest patterns of the present season, open and blind effects. A hundred or more pieces. Monday and the week—

25c a yard embroideries—19c.

30c and 35c a yard embroideries—24c.

35c to 50c a yard embroideries—29c.

New and Charming Suits for Girls and Boys

The Easter spirit is abroad and no less interesting is the Girls' and Boys' Store at this season than other parts devoted exclusively to grown-ups. Delightful little dresses are to be seen, the latest Gibson modes, sailor and blouse suits, waists and separate skirts—adroitly copied after the elder fashions, yet have a childish simplicity, too. No mother, we know, having seen these will want to drudge at making. The fabrics are the new estamines, coverts and Panama cloths in light and dark gray, several shades of blue, rich red, brown, tan; plain and handsomely trimmed. For girls of 6 to 14 years.

And the new suits for boys. Not any lack of style "difference" is there in the ones of this season. A very smart fashion is set in the single breasted cutaways with belted trousers, as also in the new effect Norfolk coats with belts all around or just across the back. These for the older boys up to 16 years. For the little fellows down to 3 years, the variety broadens. Newer sailors, Russian blouses suits, kilts with bloomer trousers, new three-piece styles, gently little overcoats and so on with lots of "prettiness" in wash suits.
